

POINTS OF PRIDE #17

01 SIDNEY POYNTER

While enjoying Fall Break, Poynter students fell in love with reading with incentives such as the Braums Book Buddy program, the 40 Book Challenge and the Pizza Hut Book It program. Parents and students were encouraged to read at home to improve vocabulary, comprehension, spelling and writing skills.

02 PARKWAY

On Wednesday, September 28th, 5th graders in Mr. Mitchell's music class learned a traditional Mexican folk dance called Los Machetes in honor of National Hispanic Heritage Month. Students made beats and had fun dancing together as they celebrated the culture. We are Crowley Pride Unified!

03 MOVIE NIGHT

The Faith Fight Finish Foundation by Dak Prescott is bridging the gap between law enforcement and the communities they serve by inviting everyone out to the CISD Multi-Purpose Stadium for a Community & Cops Movie Night October 29th at 6:00 p.m. Bring the family and enjoy the show!

04 HISPANIC HERITAGE BOWL

The annual Hispanic Heritage Quiz Bowl is back in person this Saturday, October 15th at North Crowley High School. Don't miss the opening ceremony starting at 9:00 a.m. Teams from across the district will compete to win. In addition, parents and families in attendance can visit the Health and Dyslexia Fairs and take part in the All Pro Dad draft. It's going to be a great day!

05 CROWLEY COLLEGIATE

CCA's Hispanic Heritage Celebration on October 6th was a fun event allowing scholars and their families to enjoy foods from a variety of cultures, a Color Guard flag presentation with flags from all Hispanic countries represented at CCA, singing & games in English & Spanish and ending with Zumba dancing.

06 SUE CROUCH

The only thing better than being 'Heart Smart' is being 'Heart Safe' and Sue Crouch has taken their Heart Safe campus to the next level with everyone on staff obtaining life-saving CPR training. Shout out to Principal Shanel Robinson and Nurse Tiffney Finley for leading the charge! Way to go!

07 VIVIAN J. LINCOLN LIBRARY

Vivian J. Lincoln, a longtime educator and the first female African American principal in the Crowley Independent School District will be honored posthumously with the naming of Fort Worth's newest library. Her remarkable dedication to education spanned almost four decades. Mrs. Lincoln's love for children, education and excellence was demonstrated throughout all aspects of her life to the students, staff, parents and communities she served. Locally, she served in Crowley ISD and led Jackie Carden Elementary as principal for 15 years. We celebrate this worthy educator.
